

25 August 2009

To Whom It May Concern:

Mr Tsering was awarded an Asian Development Bank – Japan Scholarship (ADB Scholarship) 25 July 2008 to 31 December 2009 for his Graduate Certificate in Environmental Engineering, for which he achieved excellent results and therefore continued on to complete his Master of Environmental Engineering again with outstanding results.

The ADB Scholarship is an extremely prestigious scholarship. Funded by the government of Japan, it provides an opportunity for well-qualified citizens of the ADB's developing member countries to pursue postgraduate studies in economics, management, science and technology, and other development-related fields at participating academic institutions in the Asian and Pacific Region.

Selection is extremely competitive. Out of thousands of applicants to the University of Melbourne, only up to 3 students are awarded this scholarship per semester.

During his candidature, Mr Tsering has been an excellent student, indeed proving with his results to be the best ADB Scholar in 2008 and 2009.
